WINTER TROLL BOUNDARY LINE DESCRIPTION CORRECTION

Sitka. . .The Alaska Department of Fish and Game announced the following information concerning the commercial salmon troll fishery:

For the 2012–2013 Winter Troll Fishery, coordinates have been added to a number of headland references of the winter boundary line. A correction has been made to the coordinate for the boundary line point that intersects North Cape. This correction does not modify the current winter boundary line, but instead corrects the defined point as published in the 2012–2013 Winter Troll Fishery Management Plan and in a news release issued on October 3, 2012. The updated winter boundary point at North Cape is as follows [5AAC 29.020 (b)]:

“...to the southernmost tip of North Cape (56°35.68’ N. lat., 135°08.37’ W. long.)”

The Emergency Order corresponding with this announcement is EO 1S9312.
